

SAY DEFEAT PUTS BRYAN OUT OF RACE

Democratic Leaders Assert Commoner Will Not Secure the Nomination.

CLARK'S FOLLOWERS OPENLY CLAIM VICTORY

Recent Political Developments
Appear to Favor Missouri Candidate.

Baltimore, June 26.—In the opinion of many of the party leaders here Mr. Bryan's defeat eliminated him from the race for the presidential nomination.

The vote by which former Judge Alton B. Parker of New York was elected temporary chairman over Mr. Bryan—579 to 510—was interpreted in many ways. The Champ Clark adherents are openly claiming the nomination and there were many at the convention who were inclined to agree that it would either be Speaker Clark or a "dark horse."

Talk of Mr. Bryan has not ceased by any means. Some of his friends assert the vote was not a test; that many of his most ardent supporters were compelled by circumstances to vote against him as temporary chairman.

They said, on the other hand, that the vote of 510 given to Mr. Bryan indicated he held a "veto" power in the convention which put him in a position of dominance as to who should be the nominee.

MANY CLARK DELEGATES JOIN ANTI-BRYAN FORCES.

Many of Speaker Clark's delegates openly threw their support to the anti-Bryan forces. This was regarded as opening a breach between the speaker and Mr. Bryan which may cause the Bryan supporters to make a bitter fight on Clark. Taken from another angle the vote of so many Clark adherents for Judge Parker was interpreted as a distinct bid for the support of the conservative element in the convention.

This conservative element is practically prepared to accept a radical or progressive candidate.

They frankly admit that to name a conservative or reactionary would result in strengthening the hand of Colonel Roosevelt in his organization of a third party. This the leaders are anxious to avoid.

The turn of political affairs in the last few days is regarded as having been decidedly favorable to Speaker Clark's candidacy. The straight out Wilson delegates threw their support solidly to Mr. Bryan in his fight against Judge Parker. This, the leaders figured, would make the conservative element choose Clark in preference to the New Jersey governor as the progressive candidate.

NINETY NEW YORK VOTES MAY GO TO MISSOURIAN.

There was a report abroad that the ninety votes of New York, a controlling factor in the situation, would go to Clark. The report was based largely upon the action of New York in voting against Bryan.

The fact that the Missouri delegation also gave Parker a majority of its votes—22 to 14—quickly called out reports of a coalition of interests between New York and Missouri.

This naturally led to talk of Clark for president and a New York man for vice president. The man mentioned most prominently in this connection was Senator O'Gorman.

There was talk also that the Underwood forces might come into this combination, the plan being that Mr. Underwood should have the speakership of the house in the event of Mr. Clark's elevation to the presidency. Most of the Underwood states are said to be against Mr. Bryan on almost any proposition whatever. Certain it was that most of these states—located in the solid South—voted against Mr. Bryan.

The Clark people declared that with New York and the Underwood forces united under the speaker's banner the latter would have more than the necessary number of votes to nominate.

SOME LEADERS RESENT ATTITUDE OF BRYAN.

It seemed certain from the public action of the delegates and their privately expressed views that the Democratic convention will nominate a progressive candidate and adopt a progressive platform. Some of the leaders frankly said they resented Mr. Bryan's assumption to dictate the temporary chairmanship.

Mr. Bryan, despite the effort to eliminate him, however, remains a stalwart factor in the convention and may be given the authority to write the platform.

The Democratic leaders appear genuinely anxious to strike a winning combination. They say they are willing to recognize and defer to the progressive element in the party and the progressive spirit of the time.

RAPS REPUBLICANS IN HIS KEYNOTE SPEECH

Judge Parker Says Sins of Party Merit Its Destruction.

Baltimore, June 26.—In his "keynote" speech as temporary chairman of the Democratic national convention Judge Alton B. Parker made the following points:

The Republican party is arraigned as the party which has built up trusts through the medium of constantly advancing tariff duty levels.

Theodore Roosevelt is scored as the friend of trusts and as a man of insatiable lust for power.

Former president, if elected, would endeavor to remain in White House the remainder of his life, Judge Parker says.

Republicans in long tenure of office have violated their promises to the people and played into the hands of the business corporations which have furnished campaign contributions.

Course of the Democratic house of representatives in passing downward revision measure praised and the president is criticised for withholding benefits from nation by exercise of veto power.

Hope expressed that Canada may yet be induced to enter into reciprocity agreement with the United States.

In closing Judge Parker declares all Democrats are progressives and says the many sins of the Republican party merit its destruction.

URGING BRYAN TO ACCEPT

Nebraskans Want Commoner to Run
if Nomination Is Offered.

Lincoln, Neb., June 26.—Nebraska supporters of William J. Bryan sent him a telegram at Baltimore in which they urged him not to refuse the presidential nomination at Baltimore in the event it is tendered him. The telegram says in part:

"It is important that the Baltimore convention nominate a candidate upon whom all progressives can unite. Knowing the implicit confidence and esteem in which you are held by the great body of the common people of the country we, the undersigned citizens of Nebraska, take this means of urging that you do not discourage or refuse to accept the nomination at the hands of the Democrats at the convention."

SHOWS ATTITUDE OF CONVENTION

Bryan Comments Briefly on His Defeat by Parker for Temporary Chairman.

NEBRASKAN KEEPS HIS FUTURE COURSE SECRET

Delegates Show Earnest Desire
to Do Things in a Hurry and Leave Baltimore.

Baltimore, June 26.—Mr. Bryan said when asked regarding his defeat by Judge Parker for the temporary chairmanship of the Democratic national convention:

"The vote in convention shows the attitude of the convention and my speech shows my view on the subject. I have no statement to make. I await developments without impatience. I do not know of anything that needs to be added."

The Nebraskan did not attend the night session of the convention to hear Judge Parker's speech, but remained in his rooms to attend to correspondence and confer with his friends.

Mr. Bryan was apparently in cheerful humor notwithstanding his defeat. He carefully refrained from giving any suggestion as to his future course of action in the convention.

"Will you carry on the fight for the progressives on the floor of the convention?" he was asked.

"I hope to be at the convention, but I do not care to outline any program."

"Would you care to make any statement of any planks which you will propose?"

"No."

"Have there been any requests made upon you from Western delegates for any particular planks? Say, for instance, on woman suffrage?"

"I have had no requests made upon me for any planks. There have been two or three suggestions handed me, but I have not read them as yet."

Bryan and Kern Confer.

Mr. Bryan was in conference with Senator Kern when informed that Judge Parker had expressed the wish that every delegate would vote for the Nebraskan as head of the resolutions committee. That Mr. Bryan would accept if the committeemen selected him as chairman of the platform committee was taken for granted by Mr. Bryan's friends.

A rapid fire, routine session closed the first day of the Democratic convention which began with the defeat of William Jennings Bryan for temporary chairman by a vote of 579 to 510. Scenes of disorder on the floor in the afternoon compelled Alton B. Parker to suspend his keynote speech until the evening session.

The delegates gave earnest evidence of their desire to do everything in a hurry and get away from Baltimore.

The completion of Judge Parker's speech and the naming of the convention committees was the sum of the work of the night session.

Mr. Bryan left the convention hall by a rear entrance soon after the vote on the temporary chairmanship was announced and resumed conferences in his rooms. Mr. Bryan did not appear in the convention hall during the evening.

His failure to be on hand resulted in an almost immediate adjournment of the resolutions committee, which met after the session in response to the delegates' demand for speed. It was practically certain that Bryan would be elected chairman of the committee. The other committees got together immediately for organization.

Noisy and Disorderly Session.

The first session of the convention, which marked the defeat of Mr. Bryan, was a noisy and disorderly one. It began with every one apparently in the best of humor, but soon after the opening prayer by Cardinal Gibbons the lines between the Bryan and anti-Bryan forces tightened almost to the breaking point.

Mr. Bryan was given an enthusiastic greeting, both from the floor and the galleries, when he made his first appearance and began his speech of protest against Judge Parker. He had not proceeded far, however, before interruptions began to be hurled at him. This was a signal for further disorder.

Senator Kern was accorded treatment even less courteous and thenceforward no man who faced the convention was safe from catcalls, hisses and noisemaking. The hubbub grew to such an extent that when Judge Parker had been elected and escorted to the platform to make his "keynote" speech the disorder was so great that a recess was taken until 8 o'clock at night. He then resumed his discussion of party principles and his denunciation of the Chicago Republican convention as one of the most disgraceful exhibitions in the political history of the country.

Mr. Bryan in his address arguing against Parker for temporary chairman claimed the right to speak on the ground that in three presidential campaigns he had borne aloft the banner of Democracy as its presidential nominee. Now that the fruits of victory were at hand, he said he should not denied an opportunity to rejoice with his party.

The Democratic party, "a pillar of fire by night for the plain people," now that the dawn had come, should, he declared, be made a "pillar of cloud by day."

Mr. Bryan made another point which elicited unbounded enthusiasm from his hearers.

He declared that the sinister influences which had been at work in the Republican national convention at Chicago were operating even more brazenly at Baltimore.

But, he added, the Democratic party could not be run by the Ryans or bought by the Belmonts.

Mr. Bryan plainly was under stress as he made his plea to the convention to turn down the Wall street interests which, he declared, were represented in the selection of Judge Parker as temporary chairman.

ROOSEVELT MEN CONFER WITH BRYAN

Mystery Surrounds Consultation at Baltimore.

Baltimore, June 26.—Francis J. Heney of California, one of Colonel Roosevelt's fighting lieutenants in the Republican national convention, and Charles R. Crane of Chicago, who helped to finance the Roosevelt campaign for the Republican nomination, were in consultation here with William Jennings Bryan of Nebraska for three-quarters of an hour.

Heney and Crane reached Mr. Bryan's apartments by a private elevator and were gone again before their visit became generally known. No one could be found who would discuss the incident.

In connection with the Heney-Crane visit it was learned that two representatives of the Outlook, one of them Carl Howland, who has been close to Colonel Roosevelt since his return from Africa two years ago, were in town. Both put up at one of the headquarters hotels. They were anxious regarding the possibility of a progressive-conservative fight in the convention.

DECLARES TIES ARE SEVERED

McCormick Says Bryan Is Free to Join New Party.

Chicago, June 26.—News of the defeat of William Jennings Bryan in the Baltimore convention by the conservative faction was received with no concealment of joy by the adherents of Theodore Roosevelt, who are busy with the preliminaries of organizing a new political party in Illinois.

"It means that Bryan can now openly declare his despair of injecting progressive principles into the Democratic party and there is no reason why he should not ally himself with Colonel Roosevelt and the fight for political freedom," said Medill McCormick.

SCORES PREMIER ASQUITH

Socialist Member Criticizes Treatment of Suffragettes.

London, June 26.—Intense bitterness has been engendered in England by the forcible feeding of the imprisoned suffragettes who declared a hunger strike while in jail. This was reflected in an extraordinary scene in the house of commons when George Lansbury, a Socialist member, denounced Premier Asquith and the government in such vitriolic terms that the speaker ordered him to leave the house and threatened to have him ejected unless he went out voluntarily.

SAYS MACHINE DIDN'T SKID

Bryan Refers to Operation of the Steam Roller.

Baltimore, June 26.—While talking with some friends over the temporary chairmanship fight Mr. Bryan remarked:

"Well, the machine did not skid."

"But that is not saying that it will not," was suggested.

"I have not the gift of prophecy," said Mr. Bryan, "but I have a knowledge of history."

ORATORY ON TAP AT BALTIMORE

Convention Crowds Eager to Hear Spellbinders.

SPEAKERS ARE ALSO EAGER.

Democrats Claim Republicans at Chicago Aided Their Cause—The Field Against Champ Clark—Governor Foss of Massachusetts a Possible Dark Horse.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Baltimore, June 26.—[Special.]—Oratory is a characteristic of Democratic conventions. The safety valve is always off, and the spellbinders are always at liberty to spout. It seems strange to one who has grown tired of talk to see how greedily the people who come to conventions devour speeches. They just can't resist the impulse to demand "speech"—"speech" in such tones and with so much vigor that the bashful orator cannot withstand the temptation to express his burning thoughts.

Not only is there more talk on the streets, at overflow meetings and in different headquarters than at the Republican convention, but the Democrats are also given to allowing much more latitude in the convention itself. Republican conventions will adjourn when they have nothing before them.

Been Making Democratic Capital.

It is asserted by every Democrat that the Republicans have been making capital for the Democratic party and capped the climax when things became so intense at Chicago. Of course it has been assumed that the forces in the Republican party have been laying the groundwork for a grand Democratic sweep in this year 1912, according to the claims of leading Democrats all over the country, but the Democrats assert that the Chicago convention did them more good than they had a right to expect.

Champ's Dangerous Position.

It is always dangerous to be the leading man. Governor Wilson experienced the fate of the leading man in the race when all the other candidates made common cause against him. There was a time, before the state conventions were held, when it was assumed that the New Jersey governor was far in the lead. In fact, it was generally conceded by the Clark managers that the two rivals in the convention would be Wilson and Harmon, and they talked about the advantageous position of Champ as a third man, not antagonistic to either and who would receive strength from both when the break came. Now the friends of the other candidates are talking about the advantage they will have when Champ's delegates break away, presuming that such a break will come after several ballots. But Champ's friends do not "allow"—as they say in the south—that there will be any break, but insist that he will keep gaining.

Another Possibility.

In talking of dark horses Governor Foss of Massachusetts should not be overlooked. There was considerable talk about the "governors" at Chicago who dominated the Roosevelt movement, but they were all on one side. Here the governors are all possibilities, and they include Marshall of Indiana, Harmon of Ohio, Baldwin of Connecticut and Dix of New York. Governor Foss would be more of a possibility if he had been longer in the Democratic party.

Want the Places.

With the possibility of success in sight the Democrats do not want too much said in favor of civil service reform. They recollect that the civil service notions of the two Cleveland administrations cut them out of many good jobs. They do not want it to happen again.

May Be Many Ballots.

The prospects are that there will be many ballots taken in the convention before there is any nomination. The friends of all the candidates say that they intend to stand by their men until the last, and several of the men who are behind the "favorite sons" will not consent to their abandonment until it is evident that the convention may not turn to one of them. Not since Bryan was nominated has any convention had more than one ballot on a president. He was named on the fifth ballot, but it was evident in that fight that none of the leading candidates could be named. That is not the case in this convention. The nomination might go to any one of them.

Last of Urey Woodson.

This is the last time we will see Urey Woodson as secretary of the Democratic committee, a position he has held for many years with great satisfaction to those who have come in contact with him. The Kentuckians decided not to have Woodson as a member of the national committee any longer, and that eliminates him as secretary, as it is the custom of the Democrats to make a member of the committee secretary.

John I. Martin on Deck.

Just how a Democratic convention would get along without Colonel John I. Martin is something that will have to be left to those who have long recollections, for the colonel as sergeant-at-arms has been managing the conventions for a score of years.

BURKE PERMANENT CHAIRMAN

Thought His Choice Would Help to Conciliate W. J. Bryan.

Baltimore, June 26.—Governor John Burke of North Dakota is being mentioned prominently for permanent chairman of the convention. As a move to conciliate Bryan it is said that the Parker men will give the progressives the permanent chairman and let them have a keynote speech also. Burke is agreeable to Bryan, but as his name will be presented to the convention by the North Dakota delegation as a presidential candidate this situation might militate against his selection.

Other names mentioned for permanent chairman are Senators Culberson of Texas, Ollie James of Kentucky and Senator John W. Kern of Indiana. Any one of these men would be agreeable to Bryan.

Colonel Roosevelt Arrives at Oyster Bay From Chicago.

NEW PARTY WELL UNDER WAY

Temporary Committee Will Meet
in New York Next Week.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 26.—With the organization of the new progressive party definitely under way former President Roosevelt returned to his home from Chicago. He was smiling and, he said, in fighting trim. He insisted that the work would be pushed ahead with full steam on.

His neighbors in Oyster Bay who have followed the political fortunes of Colonel Roosevelt for a good many years did not know whether to receive him as a returning champion or a vanquished warrior, but he assured those who saw him that he was not in the least dismayed by the happenings at Chicago.

"I understand that some of the newspapers," the colonel remarked, "said that I had returned from Chicago greatly aged, with lines of care on my face. By George, isn't that funny?" He threw back his head and laughed.

"You see how I look," he continued. "I never felt more fit in my life. And those of you who were out in Chicago know that if there was a man who was concerned or nervous it was not I. I told them out there that if they didn't purge the convention of fraudulent delegates I would take the step I did. There was never any doubt in my mind what I would do."

The republican national committeeman from Minnesota announces that he is still a republican, and that being the case his efforts in helping elect the republican ticket will probably be appreciated by the balance of the committee. Caswell says he is going to stick as long as he can and if the committee sticks to him
there should be good hands of fellowship extended on both sides.

It is suggested that short sessions of the legislature be held in the future. Members could be elected now and be called together as necessity demanded by the governor. The recent session has been the cause of many suggestions along that line, and the good record along the line of legislation, as far as they went,
has indicated that a special session is productive of more good in a very much shorter time than the long drawn out regular affair. Reapportment at their hands would have climaxed the matter.

Congressman Lindbergh announces that he will not support Taft and Sherman and says at the same time that he does not believe that the delegates sent to Chicago have the right to organize a third party as they were not sent there for that purpose. "I am not satisfied that there is need of a third party. I am not prepared to say that I will support Roosevelt as the candidate of a third party, that is dependent on his platform and the developments at Baltimore." The St. Cloud Journal-Press in commenting on the matter says: "The Duluth Herald publishes an interview with Congressman Lindbergh, and a statement as to his attitude, and if Congressman Lindbergh is not misrepresented, he gives evidence of deserting the Republican party and aiding the democrats. He is quoted as saying that he will not support Taft, discourages the formation of the third party under Roosevelt, and says this will not be necessary if the democrats nominate "a true progressive" for president. This is most interesting. Mr. Lindbergh, who is a most conscientious individual, can hardly be expected to become the candidate of the republican party,

and if the Baltimore convention nominates either Bryan or Wilson, the way will be open for Mr. Lindbergh file as a democratic candidate, or he can become an independent candidate."

PASSING OF AN OLD WASHINGTON HOTEL.

Arlington, Where Many Statesmen Stopped, Being Dismantled.

The Arlington hotel at Washington, whose corridors have echoed to the steps of countless celebrities during its half century of existence, is being dismantled to make way for a gorgeous new hostelry, and as a sort of "wake"
to the obsequies politicians and public men are recounting a new crop of remembrances about the old hotel.

Also second hand dealers and a few collectors are reaping bargains in the furniture and decorations. When the Arlington was built every stick of furniture came from the other side, and it was of the solid black walnut so much in vogue in those days. Half a dozen paintings were imported and artists called on for special canvases to decorate the corridors and lobbies.
These souvenirs have been eagerly sought and brought astonishingly low prices. A wonderful glass chandelier, for instance, went for a little over $200. It cost nearly five times that much.

The Arlington used to pay its waiters 85 cents a day wages, and the waiters in turn had to pay a "bus boy" 75 cents a day. At that it was said the waiters paid for the privilege of working at the hostelry because of the abundant tips they received.

J. Pierpont Morgan always had a suite reserved on the second floor overlooking a park. He wanted the same location in the new Arlington and so purchased some of the stock in the new hostelry in order that he might command this favor.

Mark Hanna died in the little annex
to the hotel, a small ivy covered brick house connected with the main hotel and fronting on Lafayette park. The Metropolitan club formerly had its quarters in the same place. President McKinley came to the Arlington just before his inauguration. He always stopped there.

SEES WITH ANOTHER'S EYE.

Blind Man's Sight Restored by a Delicate Grafting Operation.

Blind for seven years, Owen Harris,
a machinist, is at a Philadelphia hospital, his sight restored by the removing of the tissues from the eye of an other man and grafting them on the eye of Harris.

Harris lost the sight of both eyes in a fire at a furnace. It was predicted he would be blind for life.
Six months ago Harris went to the hospital. The physicians said there was some hope. Harris was told to return home and be prepared to come to the hospital the moment he was summoned.

It was arranged that when a patient came to the hospital with an eye so badly injured that it had to be removed Harris would be called. Recently such a patient arrived, and Harris was summoned and placed on the operating table near the man whose eye had to be removed.

The eye was taken from the injured man, and tissues of the eyeball were placed over the sightless pupil of Harris. Then the eye upon which the experiment was made was bandaged, and Harris was kept in a dark room for eight days. On the ninth day the bandage was removed, and Harris could see a little from the eye.

Harris is at the hospital awaiting the arrival of another patient who must lose an eye. When this patient arrives an operation will be performed upon the second eye, and it is believed that the sight of Harris will be almost as good as it was before the accident.

A Lover of Tea.

De Quincey was a notable tea toper.
In his picture of a winter evening in his cottage among the Cumberland hills he mentions the tea equipment on a table beside the fire and behind the table a fair tea maker, whose duty it was to fill an almost endless procession of cups. De Quincey declares that he drank tea from 8 o'clock at night to 4 in the morning and claims the infusion as "the favorite beverage of the intellectual."

OLD ENGLISH EXECUTIONS.

Breakfast For the Guests Invited to See the Hanging.

Executions, when criminals were hanged in the Old Bailey in London, had certain customary sequels. The governor of Newgate, for instance, always gave a breakfast to those friends he had invited to see the hanging, and by established custom deviled kidneys always formed the principal dish, although, as John Hollingshead had related, nearly every one was obliged to swallow a glass of brandy first.

Another function described in "London in the Sixties" was the reception held afterward by the hangman at the Green Dragon, in Fleet street, where he took refreshment with his admirers and sold the fatal rope at the rate of sixpence per inch.

In the good old times nearly every criminal who was executed was credited with a confession and "last dying words," whether he uttered them or not. According to Case and Comment, these were printed in thousands by Mr. Catnach of Seven Dials. And sometimes an offender was reprieved on his way to Tyburn and had the pleasure, like Lord Brougham, of reading his own obituary notice.

Many of these broadsides, printed on a peculiar whitey brown paper, can still be obtained in the neighborhood of the Dials at certain quaint little shops that seem to have defied alike time and the "improvement acts."
You can see them in the window alongside of old ballads, forgotten comic songs, children's toys and bottles of sticky looking sweets.

An execution which never came off was that of Edward Dennis, the public hangman, who in 1780 was sentenced to death for complicity in the Gordon riots. He was respited and resumed his occupation. So thoroughly did Dennis regain favor that in 1785 the sheriffs of London presented him with a gorgeous official robe "as a testimony to his excellent mode of performing business." Dennis found this robe not only inconvenient when at work, but rather conspicuous at other times, so he sold it to Old Cain, a well known charlatan of the day. Decked in the hangman's robe and a pasteboard crown the fortune teller cut an imposing figure.

MAKES A CLEAN SWEEP OF THINGS

Supposed Chimney Sweep Goes Through the Ice Box of Jerry Glunt on North Side

MAN ARRESTED WITH GOODS

Chief George A. Ridley Apprehends the Leader of the "Pot Gang" Rustlers

Of all the bold, bare-faced robberies, the one committed at the home of Jeremiah M. Glunt, 621 Kingwood street, has all the others in fiction or fact backed off the boards.

Last evening a hungry looking individual carrying a sack on his shoulder applied at the home for a job as chimney sweep. The family told him they had no work for him. He took his time about departing and lingered around the back yard. Nothing was thought of him until the ice box was opened near supper time and an examination showed the refrigerator had been swept clean. Nothing remained but a chunk of ice.

Chief George A. Ridley was telephoned to and given a description of the chimney sweep. The chief rushed down Front street and near the First National bank saw a man, staggering along with a heavy sack load of stuff. The chief peered into the sack and saw a lot of eatables nicely wrapped up.

There had been appropriated a cake of honey, several pounds of cheese four pounds of bacon, a fruit cake, a whole peck of potatoes, a dish of salad, and a lot of other things.

Chief Ridley took the man to the lockup. He stated that he believed him to be at the head of a gang of so-called "Pot rustlers" who frequently make their headquarters near the city limits and live on what they can beg, borrow or steal until they can move to the next town. The moral to the story seems to be: If you have an ice box on the back porch, chain a bull dog to it.

Steamboat Excursion

A very pleasant steam boat excursion was given on Monday evening by the Brotherhood class of the First Episcopal church, and a most enjoyable time was spent by the party.

There were ninety who enjoyed the trip, the Myrton S. and the Ranger belonging to Mr. Mayo, being nicely seated with the young people who made the trip to Rabbit lake and return.

The night was ideal and the river was clear of logs, the young people returning in good time.

During the trip refreshments were served by the young men, and a literary concert on both boats consisting of solos, glees, readings, and choruses.

Making Cheese in Olden Days

Cheese was made by the old time farmers in the summer on the co-operative plan by which four cattle owners, owning, say, fourteen milk cows, received all the milk night and morning, according to the daily yield of their little herd. Thus given two families having five cows each, one with three and one with one, supposing that the average yield per cow was the same, in two weeks two owners would make five cheeses each; one would press three and one only one cheese, but this one would be as good and as large as any of the rest.—National Magazine.

LOCAL ELKS ENTER BASEBALL FIELD

The "Hello Bills" Appoint a Committee to Organize a Baseball Nine

THE SCHEDULE OF GAMES

To Play Duluth Elks Aug. 3 and 4; Fergus Falls Aug. 21, 22 and 23—Other Games

Brainerd lodge, No. 615, of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks has entered the baseball field and a committee consisting of George Weaver, Fred Sanborn and H. T. Laymon has been appointed to attend to the work of organization.

H. T. Laymon, the manager of the Empress theatre, was elected playing manager. Mr. Laymon has hustled around for games and has secured a fine list of dates. These embrace games with the Duluth Elks at the Elks' aviation meet in Duluth on August 3 and 4. Brainerd will practice every night so as to be assured of not making a balloon ascension during the progress of the game.

Playing Manager Laymon also announces that three games with Fergus Falls are under consideration at the time of the Elks' state convention in Fergus Falls on August 21, 22 and 23. In addition games are being arranged with St. Cloud, Fergus Falls and Duluth Elks to be played in Brainerd, and taking it in its entirety, the Elks' baseball plans promise to be something out of the ordinary, bringing to this city a brand new class of teams.

Lutz-Graham

At eight o'clock this morning the wedding of Walter E. Lutz and Miss Kathleen M. Graham was solemnized at St. Francis Catholic church, the Rev. Father John Crean officiating. The pleasing ceremony was witnessed by the relatives and intimate friends of the contracting parties.

The bride was attired in a handsome gown of silk embroidered net over white messaline and carried a large bouquet of white bride's roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Daisy Graham, was a sister of the bride and she wore white net over net trimmed with pink messaline and she carried a bouquet of pink roses. The best man was Felix Robinson, of Staples, a cousin of the bride.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride, 413 12th street Southeast. The rooms were decorated with flowers and ferns, the prevailing color scheme being pink and white. Among the out of town guests present were Mrs. P. McDonald, of St. Paul; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gorman, Felix Robinson, Mrs. Frank Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Mraz of Staples.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Graham. She is a graduate of the local high school and a talented singer and pianist. She enjoys a wide circle of friends and is a social favorite. The groom is from Muskegon, Mich., where he learned the machinist trade. He has been working in the Brainerd shops for some time.

The young couple left on the afternoon train for Muskegon, Mich., where they will visit the groom's parents, returning in about three weeks. They will be at home after July 22 in the Mahlum flats. Their many friends extend their best wishes and congratulations and hope they will enjoy all possible prosperity and happiness, a wish in which the Dispatch joins them.

Barnhard-Gordon

The marriage of Leon C. Barnard and Miss Winnifred Gordon, both of Home Brook, southwest of Pequot, was quietly solemnized at two o'clock this afternoon in the presence of a few of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. Mrs. T. E. Williams, of Charles City, Iowa, a relative of the bride acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. Cleo Gilman assisted the groom.

The short ring service of the Methodist Episcopal church was used with the Rev. Charles Fox Davis reading the lines.

A wedding supper was served in the evening in a down town hotel in honor of the young couple, and on the midnight train they left for the twin cities on a honeymoon trip.

They will return to Home Brook next week and make their home on a farm there.

Three Cities.

Philadelphians claim that Philadelphia has the highest Revolutionary honors, Bostonians hold that Boston is the most famous town in that line, while a little city in North Carolina named Charlotte contends that neither Philadelphia nor Boston can hold a candle to it in patriotic fame. Boston has its stamp act, Philadelphia its Continental congress, with a whole lot of other things, while to Charlotte belongs the unique honor of having declared its "eternal separation" from King George and his henchmen fully a year and two months before the Declaration of Independence in the Pennsylvania town.—New York American.

CONVENTION DRAWS LARGE CROWDS

Fine Congregations Listen to Eloquent Addresses From Prof. Locker, Rev. Smith and Dr. Dick

THE PROGRAM THIS EVENING

Includes Stereopticon Lecture by H. F. Michael, Address by Rev. Sheridan, Songs by Quartette

Yesterday afternoon and evening saw the Seventh Street Norwegian church filled with Sunday school workers, and both sessions were very much alive with enthusiasm and earnest discussion touching the latest and best in Sunday school work. Miss Dorothy Lyndon and Miss Marion Halliday who are looking after the registration of delegates have registered more than one hundred delegates, from Deerwood, Crosby, Bay Lake, Daggett Brook, Pequot, Fort Ripley, Hubert, North Long Lake, while dozens of others drove in from the Sunday schools which are within a driving radius of Brainerd. Quite a few came in on last evening's train and more came in on the noon trains.

Among the principal addresses given yesterday afternoon was that by Professor A. M. Locker, general secretary of the Minnesota Sunday

Rev. George Phil Sheridan, who lectures this evening on "Christ, Our Master Teacher."

School association, who spoke on "The Teachers Teaching," and it left a deep impression on the convention.

Professor Locker said in part: "Every teacher is an artist, and the Christ is his model, and the teachings of the Bible were the tools with which he worked, human nature the material out of which we was to fashion Christian character like unto the Divine Model, Jesus Christ."

"Every manufacturing plant has a very definite notion of the character of its product, even so should it be with the church and the Sunday school teachers it appoints. The church should insist upon the very best training being given to teachers unto whom is intrusted the training and moulding of human character. Every Sunday school teacher should be a Christian, in example and experience; a church member in loyalty and work; a friend in sympathy and helpfulness. Every teacher should know the Bible—the textbook; the child, boy, girl, man, woman he is to teach, at each stage of the student's development; he should be familiar with the principles of Sunday school pedagogy; the Sunday school as an organization, not merely that of his own school but with Sunday school organization generally in county, state, nation, and the world.

Furthermore, the Sunday school teacher should have faith in a living Christ, and surrender himself completely to His teachings; have unbounded faith in the power of Christ's evangel or the seed that he sows from time to time.

Rev. M. L. Hostager, in charge of the singing throughout the convention.

"Every Sunday school in Minnesota should definitely train both teachers and all church workers; particularly by adopting the standard of qualification which is now in vogue and used by all teachers in North America. The "First Standard Course" requires the completion of a text-book containing at least 10 lessons in the Old Testament, ten on the New Testament, 10 lessons on the child, ten lessons on the teacher, and ten lessons on the organization of the Sunday school."

Among other things Prof. Locker

SPOTLIGHT

No theatre in Minnesota is half so well ventilated as the GRAND. We only change pictures three times a week but we change the air every few minutes.

Patnaude-Larson

Louis Patnaude, and Josephine Larson were married this morning at the manse of the Presbyterian church, Rev. W. J. Lowrie officiating. The groom is from Crosby where he is engaged in running a drill, and the bride is from Chatanooga, Tennessee. She was attired in a grey traveling dress. After a short visit in Ft. Ripley they will return to Crosby where they will make their future home. The best wishes of the community is with them for a happy life, in which the Dispatch heartily joins.

FIXITY OF PURPOSE.

Fixity of purpose works many wonders. Bulwer-Lytton says: "The man who succeeds above his fellow is the one who early in life clearly discerns his object and toward that object habitually directs his powers. Even genius itself is but fine observation strengthened by fixity of purpose. Every man who observes vigilantly and resolves steadfastly grows unconsciously into genius."

So light running that your "youngest" can now mow the lawn without help.

KEEN KUTTER Mowers are fast cutting and easy running because of the double gear and the fine ball bearings. A KEEN KUTTER will last longer than any mower on the market and is easily kept keen and sharp. To sharpen, merely reverse the blades and they sharpen themselves. A cheap mower will cost more in the end on account of repairs, will not do the work properly and will require twice as much labor.

Prices, $6.75 to $15.00.

Other Mowers from $3.00 up.

Clean Spectacles.

Oculists will agree that many persons who wear spectacles, although the lenses may be perfectly adapted to the needs of the eye, suffer much inconvenience and possibly ultimate damage simply through not keeping their glasses clean. Students and writers, lawyers and clergymen, business men and school children who use glasses rarely keep them clean, and from their cloudy and grimy state serious injury results to the eyesight. The glasses should be frequently cleaned with alcohol, which is preferable to water, and either tissue paper or chamois leather is better than the usual handkerchief.

BARROWS

The new mining town on the Cuyuna range, offers splendid opportunities for investment and for the establishment of business in various lines. This town is located in the richest part of the range, adjoining the Barrows mine, which will ship ore this season, and where a large force of men is now employed in putting down the third shaft, two being already completed. A number of other mines adjacent to the townsite will be opened up, making Barrows one of the greatest mining centers on the range. Streets are graded, cement sidewalks in, and buildings are going up rapidly. Lots are now offered at from $150 to $400 on the partial payment plan. Buy now while you can buy at the first offered price; get located in a live new town and prosper with the development of the country.

A few years ago lots that were sold in Hibbing, Virginia and Chisholm at the prices we are now asking are worth today several thousand dollars. For further information apply to no business whatsoever could do efficient work without it being carefully and wisely organized. He greatly berated slipshod methods in any work, particularly that of the church and Sunday school.

"The Sunday school," he said, "is organized for the purpose of teaching the scriptures; that its divine truths may be lodged in the thought of the students and worked out in human character; that the spirit of the Saviour of men might permeate human hearts and they spread the vital truths of Christianity everywhere. Training for service should be the motto of every organized Sunday school, and the school that is well organized is the school that is and will continue to do the best work."

This afternoon the Rev. W. J. Lowrie spoke with great clearness and power on "The Permanency of Organized Sunday School Work," leaving some excellent thoughts for the convention to meditate upon.

Under the head of "A Symposium on Department Work," the following speakers gave 15 minute addresses on a variety of subjects. Each paper showed that they had been well prepared and were given in good style, the author being Miss Maud Hage, Mrs. Tom Brown, Mrs. Frank Cook, Mrs. J. A. McKay, Mr. H. F. Michael, Mr. Albert Henry, Mrs. W. L. Curtis, Mrs. H. F. Michael, Mrs. E. L. Ludwig, Mrs. K. A. Lundin, Mr. O. W. Merwin, Mr. F. A. Tanzer.

Miss Anne Thorp, of Hubert, favored the convention with a beautiful vocal solo. The meeting tonight will take the form of a mass meeting. The Imperial quartette is announced to sing, the Rev. George Phil Sheridan will give an address on "Christ, Our Master Teacher," and a stereopticon lecture will be given on "Possibilities of Sunday School Work in Crow Wing County and Other Counties," by H. F. Michael. The public is most heartily invited to attend by the committee in charge.

CANCER FOUND IN PLANTS.

Government Botanist Discovers Disease Like That in Human Family. Crown gall, a disease found in many plants, is analogous to cancer in the human family, according to Dr. Erwin Smith of the bureau of plant pathology, department of agriculture, after a long study of the plant affection.

The similarity of manner in which crown galls spread, as compared with the insidious method in which cancer creeps along the various channels of the human body from diseased to healthy parts is the striking part of the discovery.

It is believed that the work of Dr. Smith will be of value in studying the cause of cancer, of which practically nothing is known.

Carried Too Far.

He had an invariable way of asking the wrong question or making the wrong comment. So it was when at a dinner party his neighbor, a lady, said to him: "I am a thorough believer, you know, Mr. Smith, that men's clothes should match their hair. A black haired man should wear black clothes; a brown haired man should wear brown clothes. Don't you think so?" "That may be," bungled Smith, "but suppose a man is bald?"—Ladies' Home Journal.
